

To keep this sprint on schedule, constant communication and standup meetings were key. This accountability ensured that everyone completed their tasks on time and to the best of their abilities. This communication also helped the entire group to be on the same page. Additionally, reaching out to group members for help in solving issues was another tactic that was used. This helped to ensure that someone wasn't stuck on an issue for too long and this made things a lot easier when dealing with a difficult task. Overall, it was a very successful final sprint and the practices that we used were very beneficial.